

Gem*Boy Productions presents Murder Mansion
During Sno-Cade
Thursday, February 23, 2017

Five characters arrive at the estate sale of Mulder Mansion, to bid on items for the estate of Penelope Saver. One of the characters is returning to the scene of the crime. Or now known as "Murder Mansion", the site of Penny Saver's killing!

This is the beginning of a murder mystery that the audience must solve, at the Indian Lake Theater at 7:01 pm Thursday, February 23, 2017.

All five characters have a 'reason' to be at the estate sale and one of them has returned to the scene of the crime --- the murder of Penelope Savers. Though the case was ruled accidental, it is clear there are five characters, with at least five reasons, that wanted Penny gone.

Audience members will watch a 30 minute first act; after that they become the detectives going to clue sites and interviewing the cast of suspects. Then, while snacking on appetizers and treats served up by The Pig 2 Deli, they will write down their 'report' on who did it, with a chance to win prizes with a correct answer.

This is another Gem*Boy Production murder mystery featuring the 'Unusual Suspects', some of the best actors in the Adirondack Region, that have been involved in past Gem*Boy shows. With fabulous ad-lib during the interviews. Molly Smith, Kim Smith, Karen Munoz, Hannah Jay and Robin Jay are the stars of the show. The evening's Emcee will be Eduardo Munoz.

"Murder Mansion" is the third production in two years and more than 300 people have enjoyed the audience participation shows. Each show has a mixture of zany characters, intrigue and Adirondack humor. This performance is specially tailored for Indian Lake's Sno-Cade Festival in February.

Tickets: $30 pp for show/buffet
